
HISTORICAL TRAUMA AND HEALING

The Fourth Annual Native Leaders Symposium
Friday, April 1st, 2016 at the Carolina Inn

Come learn about the historical and contemporary challenges facing American Indian Nations and the strategies Indigenous leaders are using to confront them.

Keynote Speaker: Amanda Blackhorse

Amanda Blackhorse (Diné) is a licensed clinical social worker, a mother, and the lead plaintiff in Blackhorse v. Pro-Football, Inc, which sought to cancel the federal registrations of the NFL team, the Washington R*dk*ns.

SCHEDULE

1:45-2:30 | Sequoyah Fellowship Alumni Speaker

"War of 1812 Pensions, Gadugi, and U.S. Social Welfare,"
Julie Reed (Cherokee), Assistant Professor of History,
University of Tennessee-Knoxville

2:45-4:00 | Keynote Speaker

"The Colonization of Our Identities: Ending the Harmful Legacy of Native American Mascotry," Amanda Blackhorse (Diné), LCSW

*Please join us for a reception from 4:00-5:00 pm
as we show our gratitude to our presenters and attendees.*

Sponsored by: the First Nations Graduate Circle and the Graduate School
Keynote speaker co-sponsored by: the American Indian Center

FOR MORE INFORMATION, PLEASE VISIT: FNGC.WEB.UNC.EDU